If you want to connect with the media and be seen as an expert . . . if you want to be the first person that local or even national media calls for a sound bite on something your business represents, this is the book for you. It's not about bragging; it's about publicity. It's about making sure other people know who you are and what you do and how they may use what you have to offer. Beverly's great at teaching us these things; anyone can learn from her lessons and approach—and that's why you need this book.

A grisley discovery, two men murdered gangland style in an exclusive London hotel. Ash Todd of the Australian Federal Police, prosecuted that case with Scotland Yard. Now The Yard has called him in again. The search propels Todd from London to the Riviera, to New York and the Cayman Islands. Something, or someone, has them gripped with fear. Someone seemingly knows his every move, before he makes it. Someone is betraying his trust. On the cusp of a breakthrough, when he needs them most, The Yard seemingly withdraws support. Do they really want the case solved, or were they just Running Dead?

This book transports the reader back in time in one of the most compelling World War II stories in many years. The author masterfully weaves this story through authentic towns and places of conflict that were focal points in the war where we find all the reflections of love, conflict, and hope that wartime brings. You can almost hear the roar of B-17 engines when you fly along with Steve and his Crew as they do battle in the dangerous sky above occupied Europe.

Sold into slavery to pay for his father's foolishly wasteful spending, Onesimus finds life as a slave especially hard. When he is falsely accused of theft and cannot prove his innocence, he can't believe his punishment will be any less than what he would have meted out in his own household. Filled with fear, he steals a purse of money and runs away, planning to leave Greece and lose himself in the crowded streets of Rome. On the way, he hears stories of Paul, who survived the bite of an adder but insists he is only a man, not a god. When Onesimus finally meets

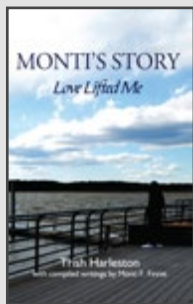

Paul, he finds himself attracted not only to the man, but to the God he serves. Is there happiness in store for Onesimus or will sorrow be his lot?

You have fears. We all do. You are not alone. Each of us fear something, and it's what we do with those fears that either propels us in life or keeps us in bondage. Fear builds impenetrable walls around our hearts. Those barriers keep us from living in freedom. Walls obstruct our personal growth and hinder our relationships, which then affects every area of our lives. Are you ready to do some demo work? Join Dawna, a guide who's been through it! So grab your tool belt-together, we'll face your fears, and shatter the walls that you've built. Study Guide included.

Pioneer Potpourri

$12.50

Batterbee &
Batterbee-Miller

Life in the 19th century Midwest was demanding at best. Men slogged through waist deep snow in search of a home. Women lugged barrels of flour over rugged roads to supply meals for families. Five year old boys herded cattle all day to sustain the family homestead. Anyone can set up claim stakes on farming land. So hardy souls with the strength to face the perils of pioneer life built our nation, their stories preserved in early Midwest style for future generations in this volume.

Rebuilding trust is a joint effort and begins in your mind. Nicole Cleveland knows a little something about rebuilding a marriage after an affair. Her very own marriage was almost destroyed when her husband abandoned their family a mere five days after she gave birth to their third child. After a shameful separation, the Lord restored her marriage. In the midst of her pain, she found her purpose; to encourage, motivate and inspire women by sharing her personal testimony with women everywhere.
